

every generation had
a paper boat.

fold a memory ↘

the kid with the 64-colour crayon box.

who was it in your class? tag them.

power cut. every generation's version.

90s

*doordarshan
went off mid-
rangoli.*

2000s

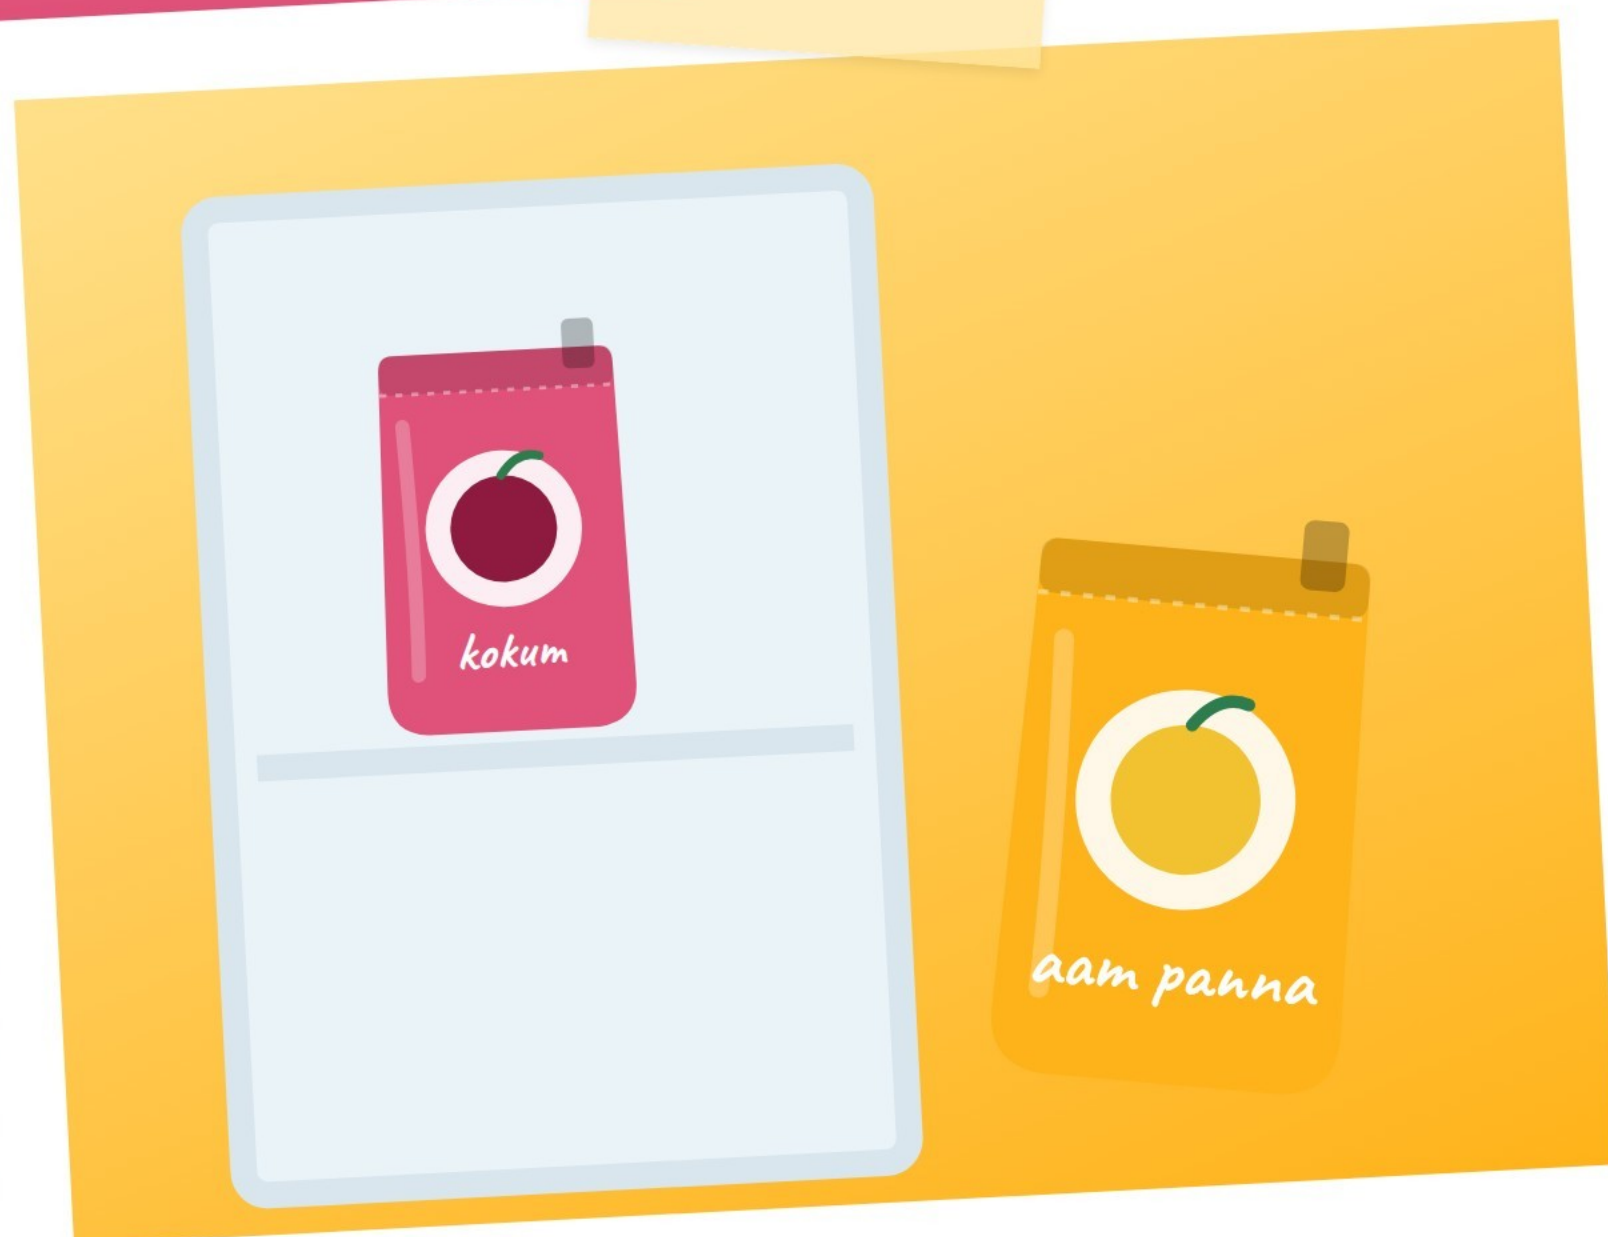

*the inverter
started beeping.*

2010s

the wifi died. so did the game.

which one was yours? ↓ comments

"dadi hid the kokum in the fridge door so the cousins wouldn't find it."

@ananya.writes · shared with permission

tell us yours in the comments.

flavour × moment = a post.

	summer holidays	cricket in the gali	first rain
aam panna	nani's "no going out till you drink this" rule	the bottle everyone shared at drinks break	sipping by the window, racing boats jaljeera	railway platform jaljeera on the way to nani's	loser buys jaljeera for the team	tangy + thunder = a reel
kokum	konkan cousins' summer	the cool-down after a sixer	monsoon in goa, kokum in the fridge

11 flavours × 12 moments = 132 ideas a year. never run dry.

12-month targets

let followers write the memories.

300K

instagram followers
from ~200K

4%+

engagement by reach
saves + shares first

10K

#MyPaperBoatMemory posts
made by followers

35%

followers aged 18–24
a new generation

akshara singh

Social strategy, content system, creators, community · Akshara.singh.marketing@gmail.com

Unsolicited portfolio proposal. Not affiliated with or endorsed by Paper Boat or Hector Beverages. Targets are proposals.